NAME:

Workshop 12, Week 29

The Family and Society

The Catechetical Institute

1. What is the family's first and fundamental contribution to society according to St. John Paul?

2. Why is communion so important for a family and for society? What's so special about communion?

3. If you're a faithful cohabiting couple, isn't that just as beneficial to kids as a married couple? Shouldn't they be treated the same?

4. In a way, school staff can be like a family community and a witness to students through the way the staff interact. Think of one way you would like to improve your relationship with your fellow teachers to better witness to Christian familial communion to your students.
